TAKE YOUR CHOICE

Some persons may not know just what the attitude of the two great parties is relative to peace with Germany. Two resolutions have been introduced in congress that make clear without any question the positions taken. The republican position was made clear by a resolution introduced in the senate by Senator Henry Cabot Lodge and reads as follows:

"Resolved, that it is the sense of the senate that there should be no further communication with the German Government upon the subject of an armistice or conditions of peace, except a demand for unconditional surrender."

The democratic position was made equally clear by a resolution introduced in the senate by Senator J. Hamilton Lewis and reads as follows:

"Resolved, that the United States Senate approves whatever course may be taken by the President of the United States in the matter of his replies and in his dealings with the German Imperial Government and the allies of either or both in response to the demand of either for peace or armistices."

Nothing could be plainer and the people of the country should find it very easy to decide which position they prefer and which they consider the best for all the allied countries.

Of all the senseless things ever proposed by a man who is supposed to be possessed of sound sense, the idea advanced by George W. Wickersham of making a gift to our allies of the enormous amount of money they owe this government, is the worst.

The amount is around seven billions. Who in this country has the right to say that such a tremendous amount of money—equal to $300 for each family in the nation—shall be taken from the pockets of the people of this country and given to a foreign nation just for mere sentiment?

Again, it is hardly likely that France and England would relish the idea of being put in the pauper class.

By the time the war is over it will be seen that this country has spent almost as much as any of our allies and much more than some. Let them pay their debt just as we would do had the conditions been reversed. In that case there would have been no suggestion of giving us our debt. All such stuff is unbecoming from every angle from which it can be viewed.

When you come to mark your Dorch law ballot next Tuesday, reverse the usual order of voting and begin marking your ballot at the bottom and then you will not miss the chance of voting for Hon. E. C. Norvell for floater from this district.

There are other good men on the ticket, but we do not think there is a better man on the ticket than he or one who will labor more earnestly for the best interests of the people.

He goes, too, this time, if elected, with a prestige rarely enjoyed by any representative from this district. He is worthy of every confidence and every republican should be sure to see that the name of E. C. NORVELL is on the ticket he votes. He is practically assured of election.

One thing that should commend him to every laboring man is, that he has the big coal companies of his county, at Tracy City, against him this time because two years ago he worked and voted for the Two-Week-Pay-Day law. That law gives the laborer his money every two weeks instead of having to wait from four to six weeks.

General Apathy is said to be in the saddle this year as never before and the vote is expected to be very light. But since President Wilson has sent out a hurry call to all democrats to work to their utmost to send him a democratic majority in congress, we feel pretty sure that the republicans will find that General Apathy is riding with whip and spur in the democratic ranks, and republicans know what that means. We wonder if republicans will take the hint and do some voting themselves or will they leave that mainly to our democratic friends.

The State Department of Fire Prevention is sending out its usual warning to the people as against the time when they will begin to start the winter fire.

Nothing any person can do is worth more for the time it takes than to carefully inspect your chimneys and employ every possible means to keep your home safe from fire. Most persons are prone to neglect this and as a result many fires of a very destructive kind result. Have you inspected your flues and chimneys?

Hon. E. N. Haston was here from Spencer yesterday in the interest of his campaign for re-election to the state senate. Mr. Haston was one of the active members of our state legislative body two years ago and was very active in pushing measures looking to the development of the Herbert Domain as a State Reformatory for boys. He and the republican representative from this district, Hon. E. C. Norvell, worked in entire harmony and both were energetic in all matters of interest for this county. Prospects for his re-election are very bright.

Henry Ford can make automobiles and gather in the golden shekles, but if present indications count, he will lack several laps of raking in that senatorial toga in Michigan next Tuesday.

DEAKINS ANNOUNCES

As Democratic Candidate for Floater in This Eleventh District.

John E. Deakins of Sequatchie county was here last week and throws his hat in the ring for representative from the counties of Cumberland, Van Buren, Sequatchie, Blount and Grundy. Mr. Deakins is the democratic nominee for this office and according to the rotation plan, Sequatchie furnishes the candidate. Mr. Deakins seems to be an affable gentleman and comes before the public endorsed by the working men of his section. Below we publish a letter from the president of the local miners union of Dunlap, Tenn., which introduces him to the public.

Dunlap, Tenn., Sept. 2.
To whom it may concern:
This is to certify that we, local miners union No. 200, recommend John E. Deakins to be a gentleman in every respect, and a friend of organized labor. Was born and raised in this county. Most of us have known him all our lives, and if elected as our representative we are sure he will still be our friend.

Yours very truly,
A. L. Hatfield, president local Miners union No. 200.—Mrs. Grundy.

IT DOESN'T PAY

In this issue appears an ad. by Reed & Smith in which they compare their prices with the prices of a certain mail-order house. The comparison shows that in many instances Reed & Smith sell the same quality of goods as the mail-order house for less money, not counting the carriage charges and the time one has to wait for the goods to arrive from the mail-order house.

Again, when you buy from the home merchant, you see the goods and know what you are getting; with the mail-order house you have to take their word for both price and quality.

Turn to the Reed & Smith ad and compare with the mail-order prices in that catalogue you have. You will get some information that will both surprise and please you. It doesn't pay to send away for goods.

A FAMILY MEDICINE

In Her Mother's Home, Says This Georgia Lady, Regarding Black-Draught. Relief From Headache, Malaria, Chills, Etc.

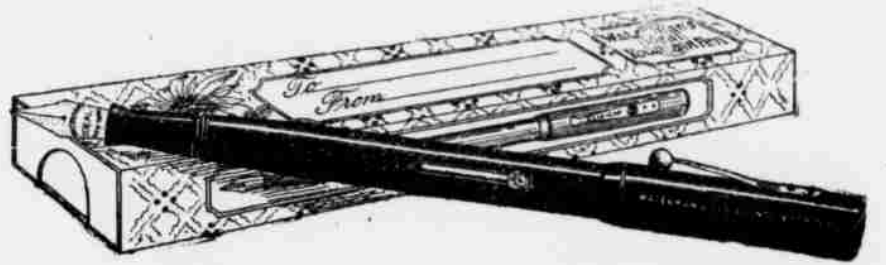

Ringgold, Ga.—Mrs. Chas. Gaston, of this place, writes: "I am a user of Theodor's Black-Draught; in fact, it was one of our family medicines. Also in my mother's home, when I was a child. When any of us children complained of headache, usually caused by constipation, she gave us a dose of Black-Draught, which would rectify the trouble. Often in the Spring, we would have malaria and chills, or troubles of this kind, we would take Black-Draught pretty regular until the liver acted well, and we would soon be up and around again. We would not be without it, for it certainly has saved us lots of doctor bills. Just a dose of Black-Draught when not so well saves a lot of days in bed."

Theodor's Black-Draught has been in use for many years in the treatment of stomach, liver and bowel troubles, and the popularity which it now enjoys is proof of its merit.

If your liver is not doing its duty, you will suffer from such disagreeable symptoms as headache, biliousness, constipation, indigestion, etc., and unless something is done, serious trouble may result.

Theodor's Black-Draught has been found a valuable remedy for these troubles. It is purely vegetable, and acts in a prompt and natural way, regulating the liver to its proper functions and cleansing the bowels of impurities. Try it. Insist on Theodor's the original and genuine. B 78
